Tales from the Drift!

We are extremely excited to invite into school next Monday Chris Morris, author of Tales from the Drift. Chris Morris is a grandparent of one of our lovely pupils and so it is even more exciting to have an author who is part of the Christ the King family in school to inspire the children.

Chris will be sharing his story with Key Stage Two pupils along with characters from his stories and the inspiration behind them. Children will also have the opportunity to ask Chris any questions they may have regarding writing a story, coming up with a plot and finding inspiration.
